Petit Manseng

SOUTH RIVER VINEYARD
VIRGINIA

Petit Manseng was first grown and made in America right here in Fauquier County. Since 2009, Pearmund Cellars has been and continues to be the largest producer of this emerging varietal. Quality wine evolves from soil to cellar.

BLENDS/VARIETAL

100% Petit Manseng. While Petit Manseng is not as well-known as other white Vitis vinifera grapes, it performs immaculately in Virginia's climate

TASTING NOTES

An intensely aromatic nose of mango and candied pineapple combine with notes of honey and mandarin orange. On the palate flavors of lime zest and honeysuckle. This dry style of Petit Manseng highlights the wine's natural, crisp acidity.

WHAT IS PETIT MANSENG?

It is traditionally grown in southwest France where it is generally made into a dessert style wine. After this French region of Jurancon, Virginia holds the second largest plantings of the variety worldwide. The first Petit Manseng in America was grown and produced here in Fauquier county!

2018 VINTAGE

2018 was a challenge to many vineyard managers, as record rainfall and poor timing worked against us. Early on, we worked with the growers and decided to sacrifice quantity for quality-helping to ensure a quality product. As an early ripening grape, Petit Manseng was spared from the October rains that further complicated a challenging year.
