WINE ADVOCATE

"The 2015 Lirac Secret de la Grange is just as good as the 2016. It's the same blend (90-10 Grenache-Syrah), made the same way, without any wood. The fruit is a bit more evolved toward cherries and spice rather than the bright raspberries of youth, but it's still full-bodied, creamy in texture and rich, with a long finish. Drink now to 2025. - Joe Czerwinski"
