Lady Hill Winery

United States - Oregon

Lady Hill is named for all the great women in the family, and it's history of female dominance. The family settled in Oregon Territory in 1850's as pioneers, most of the children born up to present day are females. Jerry and Elaine Owen have 9 children, 8 daughters and the last child is a son.

Responsibly managing and preserving the heritage and bounty of the Northwest is a foundation value for Lady Hill. As the fifth generation to farm my family’s lands, I am committed to working only with winegrowers who cherish and carefully cultivate their vineyards and the quality of their fruit. Lady Hill Winery is proud to partner with some of the Northwest’s most respected and pioneering growers.
