

Pearmund Cellars Petit Manseng

Pearmund Cellars

United States - Virginia

Pearmund Cellars is the largest producer of Petit Manseng in the Country. The wine is produced from South River Vineyards in Green County, VA.

While Petit Manseng is not as well-known as other white Vitis vinifera grapes, it performs immaculately in Virginia's climate. It is traditionally grown in southwest France where it is generally made into a dessert style wine. After this French region of Jurancon, Virginia holds the second largest plantings of the variety worldwide. The first Petit Manseng in America was grown and produced here in Fauquier county!

Lemon custard and pineapple are expressed on the nose. Balanced acidity on the palate combines with flavors of pineapple, guava and honey. This is the epitome of a 'food wine'.

Specifications

Varietals	100% Petit Manseng
Vinification	As harvest approaches Pearmund Cellars sample the vineyards and taste and analyze the fruit. With many varieties, as flavor and sugar increase, acidity typically drops off. This doesn't generally happen to the same extent with Petit Manseng allowing for more concentrated flavors. Petit Manseng is picked at optimal flavor ripeness then fermented cool and slow in stainless steel.
Production	1,000+ (9-liter cases)
Pairings	Fruit salads to Asian foods. Anything spicy. The acid cuts through the spice. Oysters and seafood with bright and fresh side dishes.
