Liminal WeatherEye Vineyard Viognier High Canyon Block

Liminal Winery

United States - Washington - Red Mountain

WeatherEye Vineyard - steep slope of High Canyon block.

Intensely aromatic and complex on the nose with notes of honeysuckle, waxy white peach, green apple, earthy vanilla, fresh hawthorn, and hints of jasmine, tarragon, and mace. The palate shows a great tension between palate-coating richness and mouth-watering acidity, with a lot of Asian pear, crunchy Snow Queen nectarine, exotic white flowers, walnut oil, and hints of oyster shell. Long and floral on the finish, this wine is extremely complex and interesting for drinking over the next 5 or so years.

Specifications

Appellation	Red Mountain
Wine Type	White
Varietals	100% Viognier
Age of Vines	Average 10 years
Agricultural Practices	Sustainable
Soil type	Silt loam on steep slope of High Canyon block
Vinification	drip irrigation - hand harvested and sorted - whole cluster pressed - partial ML - 3 months light batonnage - racked once - Aged 9 months in neutral oak
Production	53 (9-liter cases)
Pairings	Scallops

Reviews and News

2021 Liminal WeatherEye Vineyard Viognier High Canyon Block - 93 pts - VINOUS

2021 Liminal WeatherEye Vineyard Viognier High Canyon Block - 93 pts - DECANTER