

2018 Justine

Southern Rhône-Style Red Blend

The story of this wine. Justine reflects our belief that Washington is capable of producing world-class blends of grape varieties traditional to the Southern Rhône region of France. The name is inspired by one of the great heroines of recent literature, who also sprung from the imagination of the Mediterranean. Dark, seductive, complex, with a chasm of depth. The Justine is a great reflection of Avennia's mission of expression, and Washington's generous terroir.

Winemaker Tasting Notes. "Dark-hued fruits of black raspberry, huckleberry, rubbed thyme and lavender, meadow flowers, with hints of cocoa nibs and citrus peel. Rich and layered on the palate with brambly berry notes, mocha, and crushed rock. Though this is among one of the most concentrated examples of Justine, due to the strength of the 2018 vintage, there's a nice elegance here. Look for this wine to cellar for the short term, but age nicely for a decade or more. Drink 2021-2030." - Chris Peterson, Winemaker

Jeb Dunnuck barrel score - (93-95+) points

"The Southern Rhône-inspired wine is the 2018 Justine, which is 61% Grenache, 23% Mourvèdre, and 16% Syrah that saw a small amount of stems and mostly neutral oak. Lots of spice, herbes de Provence, and peppery incense notes dominate the bouquet, and it has a great core of red fruits, medium-bodied richness, and a silky, expansive mouthfeel. It's a beautiful looking Rhône blend from Washington State." - JD
